MES Mampad College is a landmark educational institution of Kerala, celebrating 52 years of educational empowerment. It is an Autonomous, NAAC A-accredited College, affiliated to the University of Calicut, Kerala, which has the distinction of being the first higher education institution in a very backward region.

Muslim Educational Society (MES), an movement started under the great leadership of late Dr. P.K. Abdul Gaffoor in 1966 & since then to take the higher educational institutions in our nation with a strength of more than 26,000 active members, 60,000 students and staff members numbering 15000. With a total number of 1750 educational institutions across the country MES has been rightly instrumental to the educational and cultural uplift of various levels.

MES Mampad College is organizing the second edition of MESMAC International Conference from 9th to 11 January 2018. The first edition of the Conference proved to be the largest Academic Conference in Kerala in terms of participation and the presentation of papers. 3 volumes have been brought out carrying the papers presented in the Conference. The attendance of the first edition ensured participation of scholars and speakers from multiple disciplines, contributing to new insights of ideas. All those experiences and the working modes of excellence certainly led us to the theme of the current edition: the New Ecologies.

The Cubanologist Gregory Bateson's concept of Ecology of Mind draws attention to the complex patterns of human thought processes across time and contextually relevant. The technological and ecological, biological and cognitive three pillars of perception have their roots in the active but general modes in an ecology of cognition. The concept, placed in a broader context, helps us reflect the conventional demarcations of the thought and ideas and makes us realize and explore the emergence of links and borders. We are all doing the New. Ideas have emerged into linkages and borders have dissolved, thus, linking the borders of the disciplines, making the totality of the ecologies. The referred ecologies are in operating domains. The internal and external of the technological innovation has revolutionized human cognition with a technical prowess. The entire has remade the self. The landscapes are redefined and mind, matter and body meet one another in being being new ecologies. These notions from the theme of the Conference is exploring.

The second edition of MESMAC International Conference promises to be bigger than the first one in terms of speakers and presentations, papers and panel discussions. Ecologies of the New: Matter, Mind and Body, the MESMAC International Conference 2018, is delighted to invite you to MES Mampad College!

MES Mampani College is an Autonomous institution run by Madhav Educational Society offering UG, PG and Research Programmes. Ever since its establishment in 1965, the college has cultivated educational spirit and subsequent empowerment of the Madhav region Kerala.

Initiated in 2016 as Global India Platform in which cross disciplinary dialogues are made possible, MESMAC International Conferences brought together the voices of thought leaders, academics and scholars from across the world to the threshold of the campus. The last five editions of MESMAC have grown its reputation in the leading college conferences in South India.

MES Mampani College is organizing the sixth edition of MESMAC International Conference 20-31 JAN 2022 on the theme Sustainability: Power, People, Politics. Since its launch in 2016, the MESMAC International Conference has come to be the fair theme of quality and participation. The 2022 edition of the Conference will raise the benchmark further, by collaborating quality educational institutions in the country and abroad. The previous editions have proved up the Conference as the biggest academic event in Kerala, with over 1400 papers presented and 20 books published with ISBN. MESMAC International Conference is attracting attention for what a unique event happens.

Conferences bring together multiplicity of perspectives. The explorative acrobatics of students and faculty members are enriched with the communication of original and diverse thoughts. At a time when the whole world is in the grip of uncertainty, it is from countries that discussions on problems and solutions should rise up when the chaos tear the world apart. It is the duty of the conference committees to create, debate and ponder on the present and direct the world to the future. With 'look' and methods of multiple disciplines are used to see the system and look towards the spring which should rise for the world.

The road for sustainability to rise and be in, is achieving our goals without compromising the ability of other human beings to meet their own goals. The theme will attempt to raise issues that are multidimensional in nature, i.e., humanities and commerce, thereby balancing social, economic, and environmental sustainability. The 'United Nations' 2030 Agenda for

Sustainable Development provides a shared blueprint for peace and prosperity for people and planet, now and into the future.

The steady growth of energy consumption has resulted in excessive energy change. This challenge has critical dimensions. It has become clear that current patterns of energy use are environmentally unsustainable. Humanity across the globe is under the burden of the pollution caused by human greed. Sustainability involves the right to life of the suffering, marginalized and minority people who have thrust to their peaceful existence on the grounds of colour, creed, gender, ethnicity, faith, nationality etc. Wars, migrations, displacements are possible based on such inequalities should also be addressed. In order to successfully implement the sustainability agenda, and to generate solutions it is essential to bring together perspectives of multiple disciplines to a common platform. The 6th edition of MESMAC International Conference in MES Mampani College's top step towards generating plans and solutions towards the great goal of achieving social, economic and environmental sustainability.

The rising reputation of MESMAC International Conference has enabled national and international collaborations possible. We are delighted to welcome the presence of you and the student and faculty members from your respective to the 6th edition of MESMAC International Conference at MES Mampani College.
